Privacy Policy

What information does iTsources collect and how is it used?

iTsources will not collect any personally-identifiable information about you (e.g. your name, address, telephone number or email address) through our website without your knowledge and permission unless you have provided it to us voluntarily.

In order to respond to your questions or fulfil your requests or provide you with our e-newsletter or special offers, it may be necessary to ask for personal information such as your name, address, e-mail address and telephone number. We may use this information to respond to your requests, or to contact you via mail, e-mail or telephone to fulfil your request or provide you with e-newsletter or any other information. Also if you submit personally identifiable information when applying for employment, this information will be collected.

Does iTsources disclose the stored information to third parties?

iTsources will only store personal information as required to meet legal and regulatory requirements or as needed to provide personalized services to you.

If you provide personally identifiable information to us, we will not disclose your personally identifiable information to any third party without your consent, unless required to do so by law, or unless we in good faith believe such action is necessary to (i) perform a task carried out in the public interest, or (ii) to defend our rights or property or those of any other iTsources entity or affiliate. However, in order to respond to your questions, fulfil your requests, provide you with specific information, your personally identifiable information may be shared with other iTsources entities. Any such other iTsources entity may be located within or outside the European Economic Area. In accordance with the above, if you submit personally identifiable information, you voluntarily consent to transfer of such information to other countries, including countries within or outside of the European Economic Area.

We do not now or in the future intend to sell, rent or market personal data about you to third parties.

What are cookies?

When visiting our website some information may be stored on your computer in the form of a "cookie". A "cookie" is a small text that contains information and is stored on your computer. Cookies are used purely for technical purposes to facilitate use of the web page. One type of cookie saves a file permanently on your computer. It may then be used to personalize a web page according to the user's choices and interests. The main type of cookie is called a "session cookie". While you are visiting a web page, session cookies are sent between your computer and the server to access information. Session cookies disappear when you turn off your web browser. A "permanent cookie" is saved to the disk and remains after the browser is closed.

iTsources uses cookies to gather visitor statistics and to record information about your preferences as you navigate through the web sites. In this way, we hope to be able to better target relevant information to our visitors.

Unless particularly stated elsewhere, cookies are never used by iTsources with the aim to gather personal data.

If you do not accept the iTsources 's use of cookies on our web site, it is possible for you to configure your browser to reject cookies by modifying your browser settings. However, this means that we cannot guarantee that all functions of our web site will function as intended. The procedure for rejecting cookies will depend on what web browser you are using. Please consult the information provided with your browser for more information.

What is Social media?

The website might use social media widgets to enable users to engage with content from our websites on various social platforms (Facebook, YouTube, Twitter, LinkedIn etc). To understand how and what information is collected and what cookies are set by these third parties, please refer to the privacy policy of the appropriate social platform.

How does iTsources protect customer information?

iTsources maintains high standards to safeguard your personal information at all times, and will carefully protect all such information.

All passwords are encrypted and our servers are protected by secure fire walls.

Does the Privacy Policy of iTsources apply on linked external websites?

Our website may contain links to other websites such as benefit providers. These Third party websites are outside our control and are not covered by this Privacy Policy. If you access other websites using the links provided, the operators of these websites may collect your personal information. Please ensure that you are satisfied with the Privacy Policy of these Third Parties before you submit any personal information.

How does iTsources update this Privacy Policy?

iTsources may at any time without any notice revise the terms of this Private Policy by updating it. We recommend that visitors to our website re-visit the Privacy policy of iTsources on occasion to learn of new Privacy practices or changes to our policy.
